

All of Us* Research Workbench: A Presentation for Researchers

Are you a clinical researcher interested in learning about a new health database? The All of Us Research Program, led by the National Institutes of Health (NIH), is building a health information database of one million people living in the United States.

If you'd like to learn more about this valuable resource, please join our webinar led by Adrienne Roman, Ph.D., a Research Support and Outreach Project Manager at the All of Us Data and Research Center at Vanderbilt University Medical Center.

Space is limited. Please register in advance by following the link below.

Webinar Information:

Date/Time: Wednesday 10/27
12:00 – 1:00 p.m. EST

Presenter: Adrienne Roman, Ph.D.

Link: Registration Link

This event is sponsored by the All of Us team in Central Massachusetts.

