

Message From The Chair

Many talented individuals make up our department and they hail from psychiatry, psychology, neurobiology, nursing and social work. Given this, neither I nor the leadership team feel that “Department of Psychiatry” adequately reflects our faculty composition. Dr. Dickson, Dean Flotte and Chancellor Collins agree. So let me re-introduce you to our department... the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences! We hope this change acknowledges all faculty who contribute to the department, the school and the health care system.

It also bears mentioning that our department has more psychologists than any other department at UMass. However, psychologists have not had a division that reflects this strength. Departmental leadership decided to rectify this by launching a division of Psychology within the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences. This division will support the research productivity, scholarship, clinical excellence, high-quality training, and engagement/retention of our psychologists. It aligns with and supports the department’s mission to improve mental health and addiction recovery through research, teaching, and clinical care. It creates an academic home and standing for psychologists in the UMASS community, and it establishes the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences as the primary home for psychology at UMASS.

An event celebrating our department name and our new Psychology Division is being planned for the Spring. Watch your communications for more information!

WE ARE STILL LOOKING FOR PATIENTS FOR OUR PSILOCYBIN STUDY

A New Treatment-Resistant Depression Medication

We are currently enrolling participants with treatment-resistant depression (TRD) in a clinical research study utilizing psilocybin to improve depressive symptoms.

Participants must:

- be 18 years of age or older
- have been diagnosed with treatment-resistant depression
- have not adequately responded to at least 2 different antidepressant treatments
- not be pregnant or have plans to become pregnant

The psilocybin dosing takes place over three days, starting with a predosing therapy session, followed by a six-to-eight-hour dosing session with a therapist, and ending with a reintegration session. Each dosing session takes place in a controlled setting.

Subjects will be randomly assigned to receive study drug or placebo, and receive some study-related care at no cost. Compensation for expenses and travel will be provided for qualified participants.

Upcoming Events

LEARN HOW TO USE AI IN YOUR WRITING ON MAY 6TH AND JUNE 3RD

The Department of Psychiatry is coordinating a writing event aimed at developing and supporting the writing skills of our emerging authors while assisting our seasoned authors with writing tasks. This 2-hour in-person event will launch with a brief presentation, Writing Scientific Manuscripts: Exploring AI, Embracing Personalized Approaches, and Learning from Experience, from Dr. Jeroan Allison that discusses the role of AI in writing.

The presentation will be followed by a “speed dating” type exercise allowing new writers to gain expertise from more seasoned authors. A fun, interesting and engaging day for sure! A second session has been scheduled as well, to be used as a follow-up for attendees, or as an initial introduction for new authors who missed the first one.

If you’re a seasoned writer with a data set, task or idea that you’d like to work on with an up-and-coming author, or a new author looking for the opportunity to work with an experienced writer, reach out to maria.mercado@umassmemorial.org and let her know! Please also include the type of writing you’re most interested in (topics, data sets, chapters, review articles, etc.) and add the following logistics to your calendar:

May 6th from 3-5pm      University Campus, NERB 1st floor conference room 1100

June 3rd from 3-5pm      University Campus, NERB 1st floor conference room 1100

THE NEW PSYCHOTHERAPY JOURNAL CLUB

The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences is starting a new psychotherapy journal club! We will be meeting on the second Wednesday of each month, starting on February 12th. All faculty, staff, residents, and trainees are welcome to join.

Ideally, articles discussed will cover a wide range of topics related to psychotherapy, including specific theoretical orientations, therapeutic approaches, age groups, and current/new issues or ethical considerations.

We are also actively seeking input from potential members about the format and structure, to make sure this is as engaging and relevant as possible for all participants – if you are interested in the journal club, it would be great to have your feedback via this brief survey: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/T8FPBLQ>

Travel Expense System

UMASS CHAN NOW USES CONCUR TO MANAGE BUSINESS AND TRAVEL EXPENSES

Within the Concur Expense module, bank card transactions and out-of-pocket purchases can be submitted with receipts for reimbursement through an expense report. The Concur Request module allows users to submit requests for Pre-Travel Authorization as well as Prior-Approval and Expense Exceptions for items out of policy.

Concur will replace Terra Dotta, PeopleSoft Expense Module submission for out-of-pocket reimbursement and the current bankcard process for submitting documentation via Buyways and allocation of expenses in PeopleSoft.

The new University Travel Policy, University Travel Policy and associated standards, requires all University Travel, both domestic and international, be registered in the University Travel Registry. Please note: failing to register your Travel may impact expense reimbursement eligibility. With our new Concur platform and Healix Travel Registry, University travel must be registered after travel is approved and booked. Please see the section on Before Departure to learn more about how to register your University Travel.
